

IGI can provide flexible and customised training and mentoring for 1 - 2 weeks either online, at IGI's office or at your own office.

We deliver custom-made state of the art courses and one to one mentoring in petroleum geochemistry and petroleum systems modelling to suit your needs and requirements, including:

- Bespoke lecture program in basic to advanced petroleum geochemistry or petroleum systems
- Hands-on teaching involving workshops that can include your own data sets
- Individual mentoring or small group training at the same cost
- Free access to IGI's petroleum geochemistry databasing interpretation software (p:IGI) and Zetaware's 1-D and 3-D modelling software for practical work during the course
- Training online, or at IGI's base in rural North Devon or at your offices

Experience has shown the bespoke training program to be a powerful and cost-effective tool for developing staff skills to support the planning, development and furthering of exploration and appraisal of petroleum resources for national and independent oil companies.

Please contact us for prices

For booking enquiries please contact:
Helen Davis, IGI Ltd, The Granary, Hallsannery, Bideford,
Devon EX39 5HE, UK.

Tel: +44(0) 1237 471749

Email: helendavis@igiltd.com Website: www.igiltd.com

